02 ADDITIONAL PRODUCT DATA

The board is an internal drive component. The host drive's complete type code and frame, along with the fitted board label, determine the appropriate service assembly.

03 PRODUCT FUNCTION

Identify the installed ACS880 drive, its frame and the main circuit interface board position from the host service records. Record the full assembly code alongside the ZINT-571 board designation.

04 SYSTEM COMPATIBILITY

Compare the connector locations, harness labels and board mounting points with the installed drive documentation. Confirm the service assembly or kit applicable to that host configuration.
